surely everyone who gets into business gains market share at the expense of some one else and the aim is to make as much cash for yuorself as possible. The fact that others are not as successful does not give them a right to complain. The opportunity to use other browsers within windows is not denied users, it just takes a little more effort. I have never seen the problem here and still dont. My feeling is that this has been seen as a way of inhibiting rivals and opening the possibility of free cash using lawyers not core business strategy and effort.
